

Your data, together. Understanding that lasts.

Profonti brings your company's data into a private environment and builds a lasting understanding of your business.

An AI-native data platform. With AI at the core, not added on.

Bring your data together.

Gather data from your business systems and files into a dedicated private environment you control.

Build lasting understanding.

Connect your customers, people, money, work, and knowledge across systems, preserving context and building on what's learned.

Get answers you can use.

Ask in your own words for clear explanations, charts, and reports grounded in your company's data.

Keep what matters in view.

Turn your important questions into dashboards that stay current.

ONE QUESTION. MORE THAN ONE SYSTEM.

Ask	"Which upcoming renewals need our attention?"
Connect	Bring together renewal dates from CRM, open issues from support, and contract value from billing.
Keep	Review the supporting records and save a view your team can return to, refreshed on the agreed schedule.

Illustrative scenario, not a customer result. Actual sources, outputs and refresh cadence are confirmed for each engagement.

START SMALL. BUILD USEFUL UNDERSTANDING.

DISCOVERY

Agree the question, data sources and first useful result.

BUILD

Connect the records, define the terms and check the answers.

RUN

Keep data and saved views current; expand as needs evolve.

A dedicated environment does not automatically mean local AI inference. Review model data flow and access requirements with us before you begin.
